

Brian Keech—Musical Director

Tonight's Musical Director is Brian Keech who lives and works in Milton Keynes.

Brian started in Brass Bands aged 12 when he joined the Bradwell Silver Band. He stayed with the band 28 years, the last 13 as Musical Director. Whilst Musical Director Brian led the band to many contest success and performing high profile sell out concerts. One of the highlights for him was a visit to Belgium where one of the bands performances was heard by over 150,000 people.

In 2004 Brian left Bradwell to have a rest from banding. This didn't last long as he was soon in demand to conduct other bands. Over the summer of 2006 he conducted the Stonesfield Silver Band from Oxfordshire. Two of the performances were at Blenheim Palace and St James Park London.

In May 2007 Brian was appointed Resident Conductor of the Towcester Studio Band. Brian returned as Bradwell's Musical Director in April 2008 and is very much enjoying his second spell with the band. Brian is married to Liz and they have two children.
